Press Comment.

[illegible] of the failure of Fisk & Hatch [illegible] the journals [illegible] the failure of Fisk & Hatch yesterday [illegible] the pleasure of [illegible] morning that Wall street had [illegible] the shock of Wednesday and [illegible] resumed something like its [illegible] announcement of the failure [illegible] the close of business hours [illegible] alarm, but has caused no [illegible] will delay the final adjustment [illegible] complications. [illegible] May 16.—[Special.]—The [illegible] statement [illegible] of Fisk & Hatch [illegible] that the [illegible] would [illegible] into the great [illegible] of the whole country [illegible] New York and its [illegible] fall of Grant to come [illegible] the failure of Charles B. Young [illegible]

Bro the canned goods firm for $200 000 the Times quotes Charles Young as saying: "Our business was a brokerage in canned goods, groceries and sundries but canned goods is a white elephant. This trade is dreadfully down because of the great production for the past two years. Many of our goods especially tomatoes bought of canners in New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland we have been carrying from a year to eighteen months. There has been a shrinkage of from 50 to 60 cents a case in canned goods since we made the purchases and the goods are now selling at 15 cents below the actual cost of production."

The Views of Financiers

Special.—C. P. Huntington was seen at his office by your reporter who inquired if he had been affected in any way by the failure of Fisk & Hatch. He said: "Not in the slightest degree. Our dealings with that firm ceased when they failed the last time—they owe us a little money but it is an old debt and not worth mentioning. No sir, everything with us is cheerful and serene."

"What will be the outcome of this scare?" asked the reporter.

"I think the worst is now over. A gentleman in a position to know who just left my office tells me that a most hopeful feeling prevails and matters will be running smoothly by to-morrow."

"Had not the action of the clearing house a great deal to do with checking the panic?"

"Yes; but the banks failed to use it for what it was worth."

WHAT RUSSELL SAGE SAYS

New York May 16.—From the Tribune of Friday: It was learned last night that a high officer of the stock exchange had been in consultation with Russell Sage in regard to the latter's position on his puts. The conversation was of the most reassuring kind. Sage asserted that he had met all his privileges with no greater obstruction than was justifiable under the condition of affairs. Sums he had paid out recently he said have been of much benefit to the market. Yesterday alone he had paid out over $800 000 on his puts. Mr Sage's faction it was said could lift one of the clouds which have hung over the situation.

JOHN SHERMAN'S VIEWS

[Special.]—John Sherman said yesterday: "We are neither in a panic nor on the verge of it unless my judgment is seriously at fault. I look upon the present trouble as simply the result of the overtrading in securities that for a long time have all nearly been the football of Wall street. While here is business depression there is no real financial distress and the resources of the country are plenty and stable. The present troubles will have no bearing on the presidential campaign. I do not think they will extend into the country or have an influence on the political parties."

LESS EFFECT THAN SUPPOSED

New York, May 16.—William Lummis who has become acting president of the stock exchange said concerning the failure of Fisk & Hatch: "The failure will have much less effect on the street than is generally supposed. It is unfortunate in that it gives another shock to public confidence but I do not believe it will involve any other house."

Wall Street Notes.

A CARD FROM DONNELL LAWSON & SIMPSON

New York May 16.—Donnell Lawson & Simpson who failed yesterday handed this card to an associated press reporter: "To our creditors: Sirs—It is with great sorrow that we are compelled to report our suspension which has been brought about by a combination of circumstances, over which we had no control. We can only request those having claims against us to extend such consideration and indulgence as possible as otherwise our assets may be sacrificed to the prejudice of such parties. As the best means of realizing from our assets and securing our creditors we have made assignments of all the assets of the firm also the individual assets of each member wherever situated to our confidential clerk R. H. Neems who has been in our employ for twelve years and is as well acquainted with our business and the character of our assets as any member of the firm and under his management with the assistance of every member of the firm who propose to give him every possible aid in executing his trust we feel warranted in saying that every dollar that can possibly be realized will be secured. We hope to be able to pay all our liabilities if our assets are not to be sacrificed and we hope you will concur in and indorse the plans proposed."

Each mail brings in remittances to the firm which are being turned over to other banks as fast as instructions are received.

EARLY BUSINESS AT THE STOCK EXCHANGE

New York May 16.—Fisk & Hatch are open for all desiring to consult the firm but no business is transacted beyond receiving claims and fixing a basis of settlement. Fisk and [illegible] other creditors expressed their confidence and [illegible] that their claims would not be [illegible]

Business began at the stock exchange without a appearance of [illegible] Stocks opened weak and feverish [illegible] Western Union [illegible] Pacific and St Paul were 1/8 lower, Northwestern 3/4, Lackawanna 1/4, Lake Shore [illegible] Reading and Omaha [illegible]. This was succeeded by a better feeling and a general advance of [illegible] foreign buyers [illegible] Exchange was weak and rates were reduced to $4 85 1/2 and $4 87 1/2. Stocks [illegible] per cent for [illegible] Rumors of failures continue but no announcement as yet made. An officer of the exchange states that he was informed by Russell Sage that he would meet every put [illegible] but must proceed slowly. The clearing house committee have loan certificates ready for instant delivery and express a determination to use them liberally with a view of relieving without delay any stringency in money market. There is wild talk about closing the stock exchange.

DECLINE IN GOVERNMENT BONDS

New York, May 16.—Governments are depressed. 4's and 4 1/2's which closed at 119 [illegible] and 120 [illegible] last night are now quoted at 118 [illegible] and 118 [illegible]. The weakness was caused by a fear that Fisk & Hatch's holdings would be marketed. Sage is now taking stocks on privileges this morning but is making settlements by giving checks for differences. This saves him paying a large amount of money but his action will compel brokers to sell stock which they bought expecting he would [illegible] custom receive them on his puts.

FAILURE OF HARDY & SONS

11.30 A.M.—Fisk & Hatch have posted a notice that coupons of Central Pacific bonds will be paid at the office of the railroad company.

H. C. Hardy & Sons have suspended. All their contracts are provided for. Stocks were heavy and demoralized on the announcement of the failure but afterwards rallied 1/4 to 2 1/2 for some shares but a few stocks were heavy. New York Central selling at [illegible] against 110.

[Special.]—Hardy, senior member of the firm of Hardy & Sons said the liabilities would not exceed $200 000. It is believed the assets are worth that sum. Much indignation was expressed upon the news of the Hardy failure over the refusal of money by institutions to help perfectly solvent firms to weather the panic caused by nothing but the stringency of the money market.

Manager Camp of the clearing house says banks are availing themselves now freely of the new certificates. He will not be surprised if $10 000 000 is taken to-day. The suspended firms are all but straightening their affairs.

THE SITUATION AT NOON

Noon.—The sub-treasury paid out $3 000 000 in legal tenders this morning. This strengthens the bank reserve. Brokers report more willingness on the part of banks to make loans. Loan amounts come from the other side. The first two hours of business from the other side, which is usually the most dangerous season of a flurry is passed with only one small failure which had no depressing influence.

The excitement at several of the Brooklyn banks has calmed down. The Atlantic State bank is open to-day but no business is transacted. The bank [illegible] last night and [illegible] the capital of the bank improved.

CALLING FOR MONEY FROM EUROPE

1 P.M.—Seligman has cabled for [illegible] of 1 600 000 francs of Napoleons [illegible] probably $300 000 [illegible]

Russell Sage [illegible] Jay Gould [illegible] settled more than three quarters of his puts and will continue settling as fast as the force can figure the accounts.

The speculative [illegible] peacefully and all evidence goes to show that the period of a [illegible] is over and that monetary affairs will gradually return to their accustomed condition.

WILL LOAN ITS MEMBERS MONEY

New York May 16.—A meeting of the clearing house committee to-day resolved [illegible] to loan to members of the association all the money required at par on the pledge of government securities. This will, it is thought, help materially to ease the prevailing stringency in money.

George W. Ely secretary of the stock exchange in answer to an inquiry whether president [illegible] had resigned stated that no official notice was yet received but that the governing committee would give no [illegible]

A visit to the various banks in Wall street found matters progressing with the usual routine. At the Metropolitan bank business was going on as before the temporary suspension of the bank. [illegible] reported to the comptroller of currency that the institution was doing nicely. The affairs seem again settling and are running at usual [illegible] condition of business.

Matters at the produce exchange are rather gloomy although no failures or rumors of failures are current. Shippers operations are checked by the extreme difficulty of selling sterling exchange. Prices [illegible] lower and tending downward.

RUNS ON BANKS

The run on the Emigrant Industrial savings bank abated to-day. One hundred and sixty thousand dollars was paid out yesterday. The Greenwich savings bank run has ended. There was a steady run on the German savings bank to-day mostly women. There were many deposits but few are [illegible] at Second National. At Bleecker street bank the run is confined to Italians. There is a run on the Seaman's savings bank but all depositors are paid.

The sub treasurer here reports that only $100 000 worth of bonds were offered for redemption under the [illegible] proposition to redeem in anticipation of a future date call. The clearing house banks have agreed to [illegible] $20 000 000 on government bonds, in order to protect the market.

A total [illegible] 15 P.M. [illegible] settling has passed safely with no additional failures.

SENSELESS RUNS

[Special.]—Slight runs on various savings banks [illegible] regarded by everybody as senseless. The [illegible] were particularly engaged by women. In all cases the checks were honored and in some the money restored just to lose a half year's interest.

At 3 30 Wall street maintained a quiet appearance. There were no crowds and less bustle than at any time since the excitement began. The chief interest [illegible] settlements at the National Exchange [illegible] around which a crowd of excited brokers have been standing all day watching quotations.

At 3 o'clock barrel petroleum was steady at 77 [illegible]. Business at the produce exchange is very dull.

ALL DANGER PAST

Fisk & Hatch to-day turned over $ 500 000 in securities left with them for safe keeping and are prepared to return all securities deposited with them as collaterals on loans as soon as the loans are paid off. It seems to be the general impression in Wall street circles that all danger of a continuance of the disturbances of the past few days is over.

CONDITION UNCHANGED

New York May 16.—Nelson Robinson of Nelson Robinson & Co. the Seney brokers stated that the condition of the firm was the same as on Wednesday. Ultimate arrangement with creditors would depend largely on the future course of financial affairs. Robinson declined to disclose the relation of the firm with the Metropolitan bank.

The Stock Market.

New York, May 16.—Governments were firmer in the afternoon and at the 2:30 call 4 1/2's were higher at 111@112 1/4 and 4's 118 3/4@119. Threes were a fraction lower at 100.

Railroad bonds were not specially active this forenoon except a few special features though prices were generally lower and in some cases the declines were important. In the afternoon Northern Pacific lists declined 1/2 to 3/4.

Stocks opened irregular in the main and weak generally on account of the failure of Fisk & Hatch Thursday. The first sales for the most part were at a concession of 1/4 to 1 3/4 per cent. Western Union and Union Pacific however were higher and before the break there was a sharp upward turn in which Pacific Mail rose 3 1/2 to 36 1/2 and Western Union 2 1/2 to 54 1/4. Speculation was favorably affected by the weakness of sterling exchange. The pressure to sell exchange was very great owing to the largely increased supply of bills made against purchased securities for European account and partly because of a desire of foreign houses to employ funds in this market at the high rates attainable. The buying of stocks for foreign account was again quite heavy there being a demand for between 40 000 and 60 000 shares for the other side.

A DRIVE.

About 11 A.M. the announcement of the failure of H. C. Hardy & Sons bankers and brokers was made and there were rumors of a prominent house being in trouble. About this time the failure of the New York Saving institution was announced. A drive was made against Lake Shore and New York Central. The former broke eight points to 81 and the latter 5 1/2 to 107 1/2. Among other active shares Canadian Pacific fell off 2 1/2 to 49 1/4, Central Pacific 1 1/4 to 38 [illegible], Canada Southern 3 [illegible], North Western 4 1/2 to 99 [illegible], St Paul 3 1/2 to 69 1/2, Rock Island 1 1/2 to 113, Lackawanna 4 1/2 to 103 1/2, Delaware and Hudson 2 to 104, Louisville and Nashville 3 1/2 to 30 1/2, Missouri Pacific 5 to 68, Kansas & Texas 5 1/4, Northern Pacific preferred 1 to 44, Pacific Mail to 31 1/2, Reading 1 1/2 to 41 1/2, Union Pacific 2 1/2 to 41 1/2 and Western Union 2 1/2 to 51 1/4.

A SHARP ADVANCE.

Subsequently while there were frequent reactions and at times a feverish feeling under a fear of further failures, the market showed a hardening tendency and as 3 o'clock approached and there was not only no further failures but the favorable conditions multiplied there was a great improvement in prices, and a large demand for stocks the day closing in a whirl of buoyancy such as has not been witnessed for some time. The upward movement was stimulated by the fact that the bank of New York had loaned $2 000 000 on government bonds and was willing to loan more on the same security, that the clearing house had issued $50 000 000 in certificates and expected to issue a large amount more and that a considerable amount of gold had been ordered from the other side. An additional important factor in favor of improvement was the easing of the money market, call loans having declined.

The change from depression to buoyancy late in the day was very marked. During the day considerable money was received from all parts and investors also brought heavy amounts into the street to buy stocks.

MONEY BONDS AND STOCKS.

New York May 16.—Money was more active and loaned up to 1 1/2 per cent per annum. Prime mercantile paper was merely nominal. Sterling exchange bank bills was demoralized $4 81@4 83 sterling, exchange demand $4 8[illegible]

Dry goods imports for the week $1 [illegible]

A TALK WITH JEFF DAVIS

Opinions He is Said to have Expressed About Grant, Sherman, Lincoln and Others.

Indianapolis Journal

Mr William L. Taylor, of the law firm of Peelle & Taylor returned yesterday from New Orleans. While on the trip he visited Jefferson Davis at his home near Beauvoir, Miss., a small station on the Louisville & Nashville railroad midway between Mobile and New Orleans. Mr Taylor describes the home of the confederate leader as a typical old-time plantation mansion, one story in height with spacious halls and an imposing portico. The house lies in view of the gulf, and is surrounded by a thick grove of orange and magnolia trees. Mr Taylor says that he was received cordially by Mr Davis, and after they had been talking a few moments Mrs Davis and her daughter a handsome young lady appeared in the room accompanied by a young Chicago lawyer. Mr Davis insisted that he should remain in the house over night. During the evening the conversation turned upon the war and Mr Davis talked freely upon all subjects that were brought up.

"What is the southern estimate of the federal generals?" inquired Mr Taylor.

"I cannot give you the southern estimate," Mr Davis replied. "I can give you my own estimate."

"What do you think of Grant?" was asked.

"Grant," he said "was largely a creature of circumstances. I remember that the first time I met Grant was when he was stationed on the Pacific coast as a lieutenant. I was then secretary of war. He was charged with drunkenness and neglect of duty. I gave him his choice between standing trial and resigning. He resigned. I know that he would be a great general [illegible] a great military commander. He was [illegible] tenacious. He fought a battle as a matter of business. Men were mere cogs in the wheel. All the men and means he wanted were placed at his command and he had every advantage. He would have been disgraced from the army of the Potomac if it had not been that too many changes had already taken place in the army."

"What is your estimate of General Sherman?" was asked.

"Sherman," Mr Davis said, "was looked upon in the south as Attila was by the Romans. He was the scourge of God. He was cruel yet he was a great strategist."

"Yes," interrupted Miss Davis, "he was an inhuman monster. What he did not use he destroyed."

Sherman hesitated. Mr Davis continued, "for a long time between joining the confederate army and the union army. We were uncertain which he would do. He finally joined the union army thinking, I suppose that he could be gained by it.

"My idea," remarked Mr Davis, "is that Meade was the most skillful general in the federal army. General Lee once said to me that he could understand the movements of all the generals in the federal army easier than those of General Meade. Those above Meade never allowed him to display his full power. He was hampered and kept down through jealousy."

Mr Taylor—How did you regard McClellan?

"Well, sir McClellan was the best trained soldier in the war. While secretary of war I sent him on three important missions—one to Europe to study military methods. He returned with a better knowledge of military discipline and methods than was possessed by any man in this country."

Mr Taylor—Could he have entered Richmond if he had pushed on across the Chickahominy?

"Well," Mr Davis answered laughing, "I once knew a farmer who said that if his foresight had been as good as his hindsight he might have made a fortune on cotton. Something of the same kind was probably the fault with McClellan. If he had known the weakness of the confederates and had thrown his army across the river I think he could have entered Richmond. We thought he would, and I believe General Lee thought so too."

Mr Taylor—Who do you regard as the greatest of the confederate generals?

"I consider General Sidney Johnston as the greatest general produced on either side by the late war. General Lee stands next in my estimation, and as we were taken away from the war his desperate struggle against overwhelming numbers will be a marvel in war annals."

"Mr Lincoln was a vulgar joker," Mr. Davis said, "but withal a great man. He was wise and he was honest. He could have done a great deal of good to the south if he had lived, and his untimely death was a great loss to us." He was quiet and apparently in deep meditation for several minutes, and then resumed: "Yes, it was a great loss, for he was succeeded by a low, mean demagogue—Johnson—and a demagogue is the worst of men. Johnson was unschooled but a man of great native ability. He had no convictions and tried to please all. Lincoln was a man of great vigor of mind although he was plain and rough. If Mr Lincoln had lived the south would have had a president that understood her condition, and he would have been of more benefit to her than any other man could possibly have been. He was an honest man. His death was a great misfortune to the south."

Not Much of a Casualty.

Philadelphia Times Ind.

The tariff disturbance is over without any further casualty than the possible defeat of the democratic party this year. The country will easily survive a little thing like that but it's a pretty hard thing for the democratic party.

This is to certify that I am well acquainted with a man fifty years of age, for [illegible] years a resident of this city, who has been at times extremely ill, but could not tell from what cause, unless it was worms. He told his family physician his suspicions, but the physician [illegible] once ridiculed the idea, and refused to attend [illegible] any longer. His son then mentioned Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge and asked him if he would take it; his reply was—I must take something to get relief, or die.
They at once procured a bottle of Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge, and he took one dose. The result was [illegible] passed upwards of [illegible] worms, cut up in every form. He is now enjoying excellent health; and like the good Samaritan of old, is endeavoring to relieve his unfortunate neighbors. He makes this known that others may be given over by regular physicians, and induces them [illegible] Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge. So far he has induced more than twenty persons to take the Vermifuge, and in every case with the most happy results. He is well satisfied that Dr. C. McLane's [illegible] prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, is far superior to any other known remedy, and that if more generally known would not fail to save many valuable lives. For further particulars inquire of Mrs. Hardie, [illegible] street, New York City.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS.

There is nothing in the general state of affairs in this country that should cause failures or even an undue stringency in financial circles The country is wealthy and growing richer The number of comforts within the reach of the common people is steadily increasing. In the great central farming region the people are little in debt and payments on mortgages are anticipated The season in the northwest has been the kindest to the farmer ever known In Michigan it is about two weeks earlier than last year In Kansas the wheat is twenty days in advance of last year, and looks better than it has at this period of the year for the last six years. In Illinois the wheat crop promises a bounteous yield, and generally farming operations are progressing vigorously and satisfactorily The persistent advocacy of the southern press of a higher and more diversified style of farming is having its effect and the farmers of the south are improving the quality of their cattle, and raising more and more their own food, becoming in some cases independent of the west, and now and then even raising something besides cotton vegetables and fruit to send north. There is a prospect of good harvests and as there is no surplus on hand either of cotton corn or wheat the farmer is likely to receive a fair reward for his product and the consumer is likely to obtain his food at a reasonable rate, which facts lie at the bottom of a sound trade Throughout the west the Chicago Tribune says there is no serious anxiety for the future, Credit is asked and given sparingly, indeed, while there are few idlers, while business is of a hand to-mouth character, there is confidence in the recuperation of trade as there is known to be an increase in those products which yield sustenance to man. In New England the Providence Journal says the season opens with an encouraging outlook for the crops. Never did grass look finer at this season of the year the fruit trees are laden with fruit blossoms, vegetation in New England is full far enough advanced until this, the May storm, is over Taking the country through there is the same large promise The average condition of the winter wheat crop is 96 as against 82 last year at this time, 100 being the standard of excellence The Cincinnati Price Current estimates from special investigation a winter wheat crop of 350,000 000 bushels, as against a yield last year of 294,400,000, and a production of spring wheat of 135,000 000 bushels, as against 125 000,000 last year This too when in certain states wheat has given way to a considerable extent to other agricultural products. There is in Iowa and elsewhere an inclination to more diversified farming which is in the line of progress. The increase of cultivated area in Dakota is something startling and all that section which raises the best of wheat is quick with improvements

So long as the country continues to grow richer in the enlarged area of land under cultivation in the increase of domestic animals and in the development of natural resources there is no ground for alarm although the atmosphere becomes humid with the escaping water of the great speculative concerns which are now meeting their inevitable and just fate The country is so large and strong that it can stand such failures as these without serious trouble Its prosperity does not depend upon the price of stocks Although many reputable firms are affected by these failures of brokers and banks they are failures which ought to have occurred and it will be better for all concerned that they were no longer delayed The New York Journal of Commerce says the trouble is confined to the gamblers there is no unsoundness among those who have stuck to their own calling The Commercial Bulletin says the trouble is the outcome of four years of the most active speculation ever witnessed in the history of the country That speculation has not been confined to securities as in former periods but largely embraced good products cotton, petroleum and even real estate Merchants have exhausted the means that should have been confined to legitimate uses and public officials have squandered funds in their charge in Wall street ventures Bank officers have misappropriated money in their banks to personal ventures " When such men fail there is a cessation of gambling and swindling for a time at least but no interruption in the progress of the affairs upon which the real prosperity and wealth of the nation depend There is of course, a decline in many lines of trade, for there is less disposition to spend money at such times if not a lack of ability But there is great encouragement in the fact that never before have the laboring classes throughout the country lived as cheaply as now The purchasing power of a dollar is enormous as compared with the war period. There is no prospect of immediate activity in business for the people who have become accustomed to economize will not at once return if ever they do to their former extravagance But there is a fair prospect of eventual prosperity for all. The liquidation of insolvent firms and the bursting of clouds will not affect the foundations of things The atmosphere, for a time at least, will be clearer on account of these disturbances.

Says the Albany Democrat. "Probably the strongest reason why John Myers should be elected is the fact that congress is now strongly democratic and will remain so for years to come If we send Hermann to congress he will be in the minority, and hence will not be able to do anything for us" Several other democratic papers have been saying the same thing It would be a shallow reason for the election of Mr Myers, if it were true But how do our respected brethren know that the house "will remain democratic for years to come?" There is the strongest probability that the next congress, the one in which Mr. Hermann will sit if elected, will be republican Divided hopelessly as the democratic party is on the tariff question, and unable to present any other issue upon which it can agree there is no present prospect that it will elect either the president or a majority of the house of representatives If then, there is any argument in the claim that the member from Oregon ought to be on the side of the majority in the house Mr Hermann is more entitled, on the score of probability to the benefit of it, than Mr Myers is

Those rascals in New York, miscalled bankers, who have been wasting in riotous living the money of depositors and are now forced to shut up their shops because they have reached the bottom of the deposits are merely thieves who ought to be sent to the penitentiary We are told that Fish of the firm of Grant & Ward drew out profits from time to time aggregating $800 000 The "profits" of course, were mostly deposits which confiding customers had put into the hands of the banking firm.

Mr. Dana of the Sun who is making a Mexican journey, reports that there is nothing in the northern part of Mexico to attract immigration from this country beyond the restless Yankees who will be drawn thither by the chances of successful mining or speculation in other directions while, with the exception of a few rich Mexicans, there is no desire for annexation on that side of the line

The distinguished Mr Fitzgerald has beaten the record in the miles covered in six days' self torture on the tan bark track, but the remark of the Greek philosopher to the man who boasted that he could stand on one leg a longer time — "a goose can beat you"—is still applicable The mule is still supreme in feats of endurance beyond all human imitators.

The "anti-monopoly party" is endeavoring to organize in some parts of the state. This is well, only we should judge from the names of some of its leaders that the name of the party does not quite cover its objects. They ought to call it the "anti-monopoly and anti labor party."

DOCTOR TIME

In the most common personifications of Time he is spoken of as Father, and he is almost always pictured to the eye as an old man But in point of fact, though an impossible thing to show in picture he ought to be represented as continually renewing his youth He is the real possessor of the philosopher's stone " He carries in his bosom the elixir of life, and is always as young as Love It is with too much levity that he has been called "the bald headed scythe swinger " and depicted with a scythe of the most primitive fashion, a very bush hook in fact which looks as though if swung by a vigorous arm it might cut down any and every thing that grows except grass And yet that all flesh is grass is not only metaphorically but literally true as Burton reminds us in his Anatomy of Melancholy All these creatures that we behold " he says "are but the herbs of the field digested into flesh in them or more remotely carnified in ourselves for all this mass of flesh which we behold came into our mouths this frame we look upon hath been upon our trenchers in brief we have devoured our selves "

Time has now and then been represented with an ax striking at the root of things Burns has described him as a ploughman He has figured both in picture and poetry with a sickle in his hand, but this has been almost always when he was reaping (whatever his alias)

> The bearded grain at a breath
> And the flowers that grow between

In literature and common speech he has played almost all parts from that of the destroyer to the healer He is often pictured to the eye as the good physician with one hand full of anodynes and anodynes for the inner man and the other full of embrocations for the outer Charlotte Bronte paid a debt of gratitude to this good doctor when she wrote in that wonderful little poem "Evening Solitude—"

> "Then in our souls there seems to languish
> A tender grief that is not woe,
> And thoughts that once wrung groans of anguish
> Now cause but some mild tears to flow
> And feelings once as strong as passions
> Float softly back—a faded dream
> Our own sharp griefs and wild sensations
> The tale of others sufferings seems

When young Ellsworth was killed in the earliest days of the rebellion hundreds of anxious souls felt for an instant the pang of despair In a little time it appeared that only one brave young man out of thousands who had never been heard of before, had been killed It is almost amazing, now, though it may seem like laughing at a funeral to say it, to think of the dreadful despondency that everywhere prevailed at the north after the disasters of Little and Big Bethel Bull Run when it happened a little later, hardly moved men more When the baleful meteoric blaze of James Fisk, Jr who went up like a rocket and came down like a stick was in the New York sky and Boss Tweed was "upon earth" many good folk everywhere despaired of the future of American cities. Things did indeed look ominous and they do not look right yet But we believe that the bottom stones, the solid foundations of our best American institutions, rest upon conscience There is a vast reserve conservative power both of public patriotism and private virtue, of fealty to the cause of good government and loyalty to the sense of personal duty which in the long run, will make everything safe The weather signs may now and then seem bad, the sky may be full of portents of all sorts Men naturally look up and around them before they look down But when one takes a second thought and finds that the solid earth is beneath him, and "the terribly fixed foot of his household gods" has not been moved then he is ready to believe that the sun is still shining in the heavens somewhere and will in due time appear again

It is only Time that can average and balance things He is the great dispenser of compensations and revenges and practically, the only healer of sorrow and pain We have read somewhere, the story of a grief stricken Frenchman who besieged all the mortuary artists of Paris to obtain the design of a monument which would fitly memorialize his undying sorrow for the death of his oldest son After a while he ceased to haunt the tombstone makers and when he appeared among them it was not to give a tardy order for the memorial he had been considering but to direct the erection of an appropriate monument to "Time the Consoler " These ministrations of Time the wisely ordered events that drop into their appointed places every day and hour from the cornucopia of that future which is with God only enter into human calculations as indefinite and uncertain things But they are more potent and scarcely less active, than any drugs in materia medica We have all bad doctors and doctors, but is it not true that Doctor Time has, under Providence always wrought the most positive and beneficent cures

WAGES AND COST OF LIVING

When we read in the reports of the labor situation in Europe—reports often printed in our county for the purpose of backing up extreme views of the benefits of a protective tariff— that wages there range from $4 to $8 a week and are asked to observe that in this country laborers in the same line are paid from $12 to $24, we are very apt to congratulate the American laborer upon the grand opportunity which he has to accumulate money for a rainy day if he cannot amass a great fortune We are too proud however to ignore some of the facts which are greatly to the disadvantage of the laboring men of this country Principal among these facts is that of the cost of living. The man who works for $15 a week is no better off if he has to pay it all out for a living than he who receives and lives on $5 only While no small portion of the expensive cost of living in this country is due to the extravagant and fast habits of the people there is quite enough in the high cost of articles which the customs of the country and long use make it necessary for everybody to have to excite a good deal of discussion and call out all sorts of explanations Among these explanations it is mentioned that production is too scant for the population but this does not furnish a satisfactory solution of the problem. Production especially agricultural production has increased even faster than population, and we have been accustomed of late years to export an enormous surplus of food Even this year there is a surplus still on hand in the country and it is to be remarked that even in those countries which take our breadstuffs at present prices the general cost of living is less than it is in the United States. Wages, indeed are higher here than there but the people of those countries in some way manage to get along, about as well on the lower amount of pay for their work Perhaps this is due to their superior industry and economy If so they are all the better for it.

From consular reports we learn that in Dundee, Scotland, last year, some industries were regarded as very flourishing and operatives were paid wages which they considered high For instance, "shipbuilding was very stirring," says the consul "men were scarce in some departments, and there was work for more than the hands employed " But we find that the wages paid were less than would be regarded as exceedingly low pay for common labor in this country. Still, with industry and economical management, which in our country are too little known, the workman in the Scotch shipyard gets on comfortably, and extreme poverty there is no more frequent than in our own centers of dense population

Our system keeps the prices of nearly all the necessaries of life inordinately high It is apparent that there is a more or less artificial and unnatural state of things, and neither the shortness of crops nor the alleged deficiency of production explains it. Living costs too much and profits are not uniformly realized in proportion to prices. Good crops which seem now to be promised, and a prosperous year will help the situation somewhat, and a return to the simpler habits and more economical styles of living which prevailed "in the days of the fathers," would place all the people above the danger of financial distress On the Pacific coast, and in Oregon especially is the present time an auspicious period for the industrious and economical, but he who lives as if he thought the flush times should never end, and increases his expenses as fast as the opportunity to accumulate increases will find speedily that the inevitable dull period has come, and he is no better off than when the last period of the same kind left him

GOOD WORK WASTED

Many times we have spoken of the misdirected effort employed in the attempted reform of persons hardened in vice and crime to the neglect of effort among others who might be saved from vicious and degraded lives There is scarcely ever a murderer for whose life there is not an appeal based on the assumption that his reformation is possible and worth the attempt Yet it is the deliberate judgment of the wisest philanthropists that nearly all the labor and money used in the effort to reform mature and hardened criminals are wasted while at the same time results prove that effort employed in reforming and saving children even of the lowest origin and the most vicious early associations is in no small measure successful The work of the Children's Aid Society of New York it is claimed is predominant among the causes of the marked decrease of vagrancy in that city, in the last twenty years in 1860 there were 5880 women and girls committed for vagrancy in New York City, and although the population very largely increased meanwhile the number of this class committed in 1880 had fallen to 1541 The decline has been but little less marked among male vagrants and petty thieves But for the tide of immigration constantly pouring into New York and the drift of criminals from country to city, the managers of the society think crime could almost be educated out of the city These facts carry a serious lesson to all They warn parents to save their children before evil habits are formed They teach philanthropists to work chiefly for the children Moral strength once broken down, is rarely if ever restored. There are societies in Portland which are trying to do something to save men and women, and some of the members of these societies act as if the voice of duty called for their especial efforts in behalf of the worst criminals to be found in the city. Misdirected philanthropy will labor for weeks with a person of whose permanent reformation there can be but little hope, and scarcely devote an hour to the children found on almost every street, who might be saved. In this selection of the material to be wrought upon about three fourths of the philanthropic work done in the world is wasted The expectation of making a beautiful and symmetrical arbor by transplanting full grown, knotted and gnarled trees, would be as reasonable as the expectation to rear a good and enduring structure of human character out of minds long warped and distorted by vice and vicious thoughts and practices. The grown men and women who have long been traveling in the downward road, may sometimes, for awhile, give great signs of reformation and enable the mistaken reformers to parade them as trophies of their work, but such reformation, in nine cases out of ten is temporary and soon passes away in the heat of passion or temptation In these hints there are reasons why there should be a radical change in the direction of philanthropic effort a change from the hopelessly confirmed criminal classes to the susceptible and possibly reformable children and youth of the land

Statistics show that not only the aggregate but the rate, of losses of property by fire is increasing in the United States Ten years ago it was about $70 000 000 a year or $1 000 000,000 in fifteen years Now it is $100 000 000 a year or $1 000 000 000 in only ten years Let this rate continue, and at the end of fifty or sixty years more the annual fire waste will not be less than $1 000,000 000 One thing which these facts ought to bring about is a revision and strict enforcement of building laws and regulations in cities and densely populated towns In very few places are there any adequate laws on the subject and where there are good laws they are rarely enforced

It is noticeable that among the so called independents of the county this year there are few very few of the old time independents who contended in former years for independence based on and associated with a higher principle than that involved in a struggle for certain paying offices Then the nominations for sheriff and clerk were merely incidental to the general purpose Now the whole effort is based on those nominations. The one was independence for a principle the other is independence for revenue only.

It looks now as if Jeffery had given in exchange the bulk of the bed-rock democratic vote of Multnomah for the support of a job lot of disappointed adherents of the old republican ring

MORE FINANCIAL EMBARRASSMENTS.—The excitement which has prevailed in Chinese commercial circles did not abate yesterday. There seemed to be a general feeling of distrust, and no firm felt safe. The sight of a white man entering a Chinese store was sure to attract a crowd and make the occupants turn pale with apprehension. During the afternoon a deputy sheriff visited the store of Quon Wo On, on Second street, between Oak and Pine, and produced attachment papers. The firm is one of the most substantial in the city and the sight of a sheriff there attracted a crowd around the door. A reporter edged in in time to hear the papers read to the members of the firm. They set forth that one Ah Wo had employed the firm of Beebe & Gaston to render certain legal services, for which they were to be paid $4000. The services had been performed, but the cash had not been paid, hence the attachment. The firm denied that they had employed Beebe & Gaston to perform any services for them, and repudiated any connection with Ah Wo. Bonds were immediately furnished by Sid Dec, a responsible merchant, and the claim will be contested. One of the parties said: "We carry this case to court and the jury believe any Chinaman before this man Bebee. They heap away him." Attachment papers for various amounts aggregating over $6000 were also served yesterday on the firm of Ying Lung & Co., on Alder street near Second, which was already closed up the day before. The firm of King Chong & Co., on Pine street between First and Second, also had their doors closed by the sheriff upon an attachment issued to E. Emse & Co. of San Francisco for $736.

PUBLIC NUISANCES.—From every part of the city there come almost daily to the chief of police, who is also the health officer, complaints of nuisances which persons permit to exist in or around their premises, not only to the great disgust but also to the absolute ill health of their neighbors. Captain Martin has been detailed as a special officer to look after these complaints, and he serves several notices each day upon the persons who permit the nuisances, ordering them to see that they are abated. Except in the case of an occasional Chinaman, these notices are sufficient, and the garbage and filth have been carted away. Complaints where nuisances still exist are as follows: On Caruthers's street between Front and First slops and filth are continually running down the street; the backyard in the rear of the restaurant on the corner of Washington and First streets is in a very filthy condition, and several adjoining tenants have made complaints about it; the back yard of a house occupied by Chinese on Second street between B and C is also almost unendurable from the offensive smells that arise therefrom. However, the city is much cleaner than it has been in the past, and with the entire police force ever on the lookout, as they now seem to be, to find and report all nuisances, a fair condition of the public health may be looked for this summer.

DEPREDATIONS OF BOYS.—W. A. Daly will soon remove to the large house upon the corner of Fourth and Lincoln streets. That locality has for some time been the place of rendezvous for all the boys in the neighborhood, and their antics and hoodlum actions have made them a much dreaded band. Whenever a house has no occupants these boys take particular pleasure in arming themselves with a handful of stones each and deliberately proceeding to break the panes of glass in every window. They also trample down the grass, break the trees and uproot the shrubbery. Last night Mr. Daly went to visit the house he is going to live in and found ample proof of the vandalism that exists in that neighborhood. Espying a boy up a tree he ordered him to get down and was very much surprised to find that there were eight or ten more boys in the same tree. As they dropped from the limbs to the ground for a moment it seemed to be raining boys. The police whose beats are in that neighborhood have been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for these boys.

POLITICAL PREPARATIONS.—A meeting of democrats and republican "kickers" was held last night at Montgomery hall, corner First and Montgomery streets. The meeting was called in the interest of the fusion ticket, and resolutions were drawn and a committee appointed looking toward the permanent organization of a campaign club. The meeting was addressed by several speakers, whose complaining voices no doubt found sympathetic ears. Other meetings will be held on Tuesdays and Fridays each week prior to election when the local orators of the day are expected to be in attendance.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.—A tall Chinaman was arrested yesterday and placed in the city jail on account of his mistaking the identity of a fellow-countryman. It seems that some years since the tall Chinaman was swindled by one You Lum, who palmed off on him several hundred dollars' worth of bogus gold dust. Yesterday he met a fellow who resembled the rascal, and insisted that he was the man who swindled him. A row ensued, ending in the mistaken man being required to put up $10 or his appearance.

FIRST OREGON STRAWBERRIES.—A small lot of strawberries was received here yesterday from Roseburg, the first of the Oregon crop of this season. They were fine, large berries and promise well for the coming crop, which will be in market in a few days. There arrived by the Columbia last evening a lot of cherries and strawberries. They were in fair condition considering their long journey, but California berries will stand a poor show in this market when the fresh Oregon berries come in.

BAND OF HOPE CONCERT.—The Band of Hope in charge of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will give their first concert of the season this evening at 8 o'clock, in their hall on Washington street, between Front and First streets. The little ones are working earnestly, and it is hoped the public will show their appreciation of this difficult but all important branch of the W. C. T. U. work, by a generous attendance at this concert. Admission, twenty-five cents; children, fifteen cents.

CRICKET.—There will be a match game of cricket at the East Portland grounds this afternoon between married and single men. The wickets will be pitched at 1:30 o'clock, at which time all players are expected to be on the ground. The elevens will be composed of the following persons: Married—Molson, Andrews, Gilman, Mitchell, Crocker, Kinross, Dobinson, Greame, Creighton, Oran, Rome. Single—Mundy, Marlon, Black, Bourne, Smith, Dixon, Thompson, McDonnell, J. Andrew, Dray, Readmer.

WHARF EXTENSION.—An extension to the wharves at the rear of the gas works and Willamette iron works, 380 feet in length and about 30 feet in width, bringing the dock out to the wharf line, is about completed. It will afford a much needed increase of wharf accommodation. The old platform, iron etc which has so long obstructed the foot of E street, will be removed, giving free access to the wharves.

STRANGE FISH.—A large shipment of fish commonly called rock cod was received here from the Sound yesterday. They are of a reddish bronze color, looking something like monstrous gold fish. None of them have been seen in this market for several years. They were caught by an Italian, with a hook and line, and from the quantity sent over, he must have found a good fishing ground.

FLEET REDUCED.—The steam collier Walla Walla, now unloading at the bunkers below A street, will, as soon as discharged, be put out of service for a time. The bunkers are now full, and as the demand for coal is small at this season, the collier Willamette will be able to keep up the supply.

READY FOR LOADING.—The British ship Tyrconnas has finished discharging cargo and is at Mersey dock awaiting business. The Eskdale has taken in grain stiffening and yesterday was discharging the last of her cargo, 103 tons pig iron, into the Tyrconnas for stiffening.

NEW BANK.—Independence, one of the oldest towns in the state, is to have her first bank. J. S. Cooper of that place has purchased from Hall's Safe and Lock company a complete banking outfit for $8500.

AMUSEMENTS.

MATINEE AT THE TIVOLI.—The Tivoli Opera House has "come to stay," and is already a recognized feature in Portland's permanently established amusements. It is now just closing its second week of Adrian's popular ballad opera of "Olivette," which is only equaled for its rollicking comedy by its sparkling and sympathetic music. This afternoon there will be a matinee, at which "Olivette" will be given with the two queens of song—Miss King and Miss Edgar—in the leading characters. It took some time to establish it, but ladies now recognize the fact that the Tivoli is a place where they can go without hearing anything to offend the most refined taste. Hence its growing popularity.

THE ELITE.—The extensive and varied programme offered at the Elite theater attracts a large audience. The comicalities, eccentricities and burlesque characterizations of the troupe, ending with dramas, compose a first class variety show. The great female impersonator, Gus Mills, has been engaged and will appear next week.

THE EAST SIDE.

CITIZENS' RALLY.

The mass meeting at Neppach's hall last evening, under the auspices of the Citizens' Union Club of East Portland, was all that its authors could have desired. The attendance was large, the speaking good, and the enthusiasm general. The seating capacity of the hall was packed and standing room at a premium, the number present, according to the statement of the proprietor of the hall, exceeding 500, which included many prominent citizens of Portland. A number of ladies were also present.

T. J. Matlock, president of the club, called the meeting to order, and introduced John M. Gearin as the first speaker of the evening.

A round of applause greeted Mr. Gearin. He said that it was ten years since he had the pleasure of addressing an East Portland audience, the occasion then being similar to that at present. At that time the citizens who opposed the then existing ring elected every man on their ticket, and they would do it again this time. If they could not get their rights at the primaries, they could secure them, if they pleased to call it so, through a kickers convention. Though the ring boasted their efforts were futile, as they (the ringsters) "carried the sack," he did not believe the intelligence of the county could be swamped by any such means. There were no political issues involved in the county election, and it mattered not whether the officers chosen were republican or democratic, so long as they were honest and capable, were the choice of the people and not of corrupt rings. He believed the fusion ticket the outgrowth of a general and honest sentiment of independence throughout the county, and the contest between professional politicians as against the people. He therefore indorsed the entire ticket. When a set of half a dozen men undertook to control the politics of the county for purely selfish motives it was time for the people to rise in their might and say, "We will have no more of it." He believed that by determined work and faithful service on election day the desired end would be accomplished.

Mr. Gearin then introduced Mr George P. Riley (colored) as the next speaker. He commenced by stating he felt somewhat in the position of the bat at the convention of birds and beasts, which decided he was neither one nor the other. He referred to the previous speaker as having opposed him politically on that platform two years ago, but circumstances had altered cases, and he was willing for the lion and the lamb to lie down together, as, like Jim Fisk, he could "not go back on the poor." An oligarchy of corrupt men, who control matters to suit themselves, say to those whom the people wish to represent them, "Wait awhile; your turn will come soon." "And so will death," added the speaker. He continued in this humorous vein to the disadvantage of the ring, keeping the audience in a roar of laughter, and upon retiring brought down the house.

Mr. W. C. Gaston was next introduced. He said he had voted with both the republican and democratic parties, and no party could put a collar around his neck and call him its dog. Taking THE OREGONIAN as authority, there was no time in the county when politics were not controlled by a ring, and yet strange to say, THE OREGONIAN now supported the ring ticket. The issue in the matter of electing a senator was between capital and labor, and it was not well to continue in power a man who was the paid attorney of grinding corporations, of which he also held stock. As, according to an old adage, "a poet was born, not made," so he believed a county clerk was born and not made, and God Almighty had made Marshall for that position. He referred to the inconsistency of the ring in relation to mechanics' lien and registry laws, and administered a scathing rebuke to Dolph and George for the telegram sent by them to Marshall.

J. G. Chapman was next introduced. He referred to men who would vote the ring ticket as not worthy the name, and the manipulation of primaries as an outrage on American independence. He compared the present time to the ten years preceding the revolutionary war, and believed if the people did not put a stop to the present state of affairs American institutions were gone.

S. C. Price of East Portland was the last speaker, and though brief, delivered one of the best speeches of the evening. He spoke of a person's duty as a citizen as paramount to that as a partisan, and referring to statements made concerning the leaders of the movement, said the cause of the masses did not need any great leadership to lead them on to victory. He also referred to the communication in yesterday's OREGONIAN, purporting to come from East Portland, and said if that meeting was the size of the corporal's guard, the enemy had occasion to be fearful of the whole brigade.

The meeting then dispersed to music by the East Portland band, which enlivened the occasion throughout.

RUNAWAY AND SMASHUP.

While "Little Sam," driver of hack No. 6 of the U. B. & T. Co., was soliciting passengers by the mail train at the L street depot yesterday afternoon, his team took a notion to a spin on their own account. Upon another team turning to leave, they concluded it was time to go too, and they went for all they were worth—down L street, up Water to U, and up U to Fifth, where the hack was turned over, the glass broken, the top stove in and the sides and sills broken. The turnover was the means of stopping the team, which escaped unhurt. The harness was but slightly injured.

REPUBLICAN RALLY.

A public meeting will be held at Hall & Stott's hall this evening under the auspices of the Loyal Republican Club of East Portland. Prominent speakers will be present to address the meeting, and the East Portland band will enliven the occasion by appropriate selections. All are invited.

NOTES.

Mrs. H. H. Holmes, who for the past month has been visiting her sister at Dayton, W. T., returned home yesterday.

Mr. John Somerville leaves to-day for Yakima to look after his stock interests there. He will be absent about two weeks.

A special meeting of St. David's guild will be held in St. David's Episcopal church this afternoon at 2 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

Mrs. H. S. Rea left on the outgoing steamer to visit her old home in California, in the hope of improving her health, which has been feeble of late.

The entertainment to have been given at the Congregational church last evening has been postponed until next Friday evening, in deference to certain artists who could not be present.

One of two "girls" who were riding up L street yesterday afternoon fell from her saddle and came within an ace of being trampled on by the horse. She escaped without injury, but received a good dusting.

An effort is being made in this city in behalf of a new county ticket, having for its object the substitution of Jordan's name for that of Jeffery on the fusion ticket. The movers are a clique calling themselves "independent citizens."

Political wrangling continues lively, though neither party appears willing to risk much money on the result of the election. An even bet of $10 was made yesterday on the candidates for sheriff, but generally speaking, "one is afraid and the other darsen't."

Mrs. B. A. Owens, M. D., will deliver her lecture on "Heredity" at the Presbyterian church, East Portland, Wednesday evening, May 21, under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Musical exercises will precede and follow the lecture.

D. MacMahon has arrived here direct from the "ould country" for the purpose of disposing of property in Sullivan's addition, left him by his brother, Patrick MacMahon, who died here four months since. Upon accomplishing his object he will return to his native sod.

LARGER STREET MAIL BOXES WANTED.

PORTLAND, May 15th.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

You mention in your issue of to-day that a number of lamp post letter boxes have arrived at the postoffice, and that several will be added to those already in use. May I suggest that some provision be made for the book post packages. When I was in Canada the numbers of newspapers, etc., lying on and around the letter boxes were as conspicuous as they are here until a few larger boxes were provided. Is not Portland worth this convenience?—E. D.

[Our citizens generally are satisfied to have lamp post letter boxes, but a few are in the habit of piling up papers, books, boots etc. upon them for the carriers to pack to the postoffice. It is not certain whether Portland is "worth" the convenience wished for by "E. D.," or not, but an effort will it is understood, be made in the near future to secure it.—REP.]

ACCIDENT IN YAMHILL.

MCMINNVILLE, May 16.

Yesterday, while Charles Talmage and Prof. Freund of Lafayette were returning home in a buggy from the speaking at this place, the bridle came off one of the horses while going down the hill at this end of the North Yamhill bridge, and the horses started to run. Freund jumped out and escaped unhurt, while Talmage held on to the lines till he got on the bridge, then reined the horses around against the railing, and as he jumped from the buggy he became entangled in the wheel and broke one leg and dislocated one shoulder. Mr. Talmage is our deputy county clerk, a much respected citizen, and has the sympathy of a host of friends.

FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

WOODBURN, May 16.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Last winter the legislature of Washington territory passed an act conceding to the women of that territory that which by nature was her own—the elective franchise. This action on the part of the legislature, which was only an act of justice, has not, as it seems, proved satisfactory to a certain class of individuals who, in order that they might bring the measure into contempt, have not scrupled to resort to various tricks, one of which is the requiring of women to undergo jury service.

Some time since THE OREGONIAN was pleased to publish a communication from me, in which I expressed in strong language my condemnation of the line of action on the part of these Washington officials.

To this, a correspondent of your paper under the signature of "Common Sense" takes exceptions and comes to the defense of his friends, the Washington sheriffs, by shifting the responsibility of this unseemly conduct on the shoulders of the proper officers. For the trick itself, however, "Common Sense" has not one word of apology or condemnation. On the contrary, he virtually endorses the action of these "proper officers" of Washington, by threatening the women of Oregon with the same line of procedure in the event of their enfranchisement. In response to this threat, which "Common Sense" flaunts in the face of the women of Oregon, I would again reply that no legislature of this state will ever so far forget its dignity as to pass an act requiring of women those services which, in the nature of things, pertain to men.

"Common Sense," having no argument to offer against woman suffrage, assumes the role of a seer, and prophesies a woful defeat of the measure at the next election. That may be true. When we survey the long line of corner groceries swarming with their Nasbys, Deacon Pogrums, Capt. Schneiders et id omni genus, the friends of human rights may well fear. This countless number of dram shops and gambling hells and other dens of infamy on election day will spew forth a vast horde of deadbeats, all vociferous—between their hiccoughs—in view of the dangers which threaten man's sacred rights. According to the philosophy of this noble band of patriots—"woman protectors"—"wimmen hevent the reasonin' faculties of men; and havent the stidiness necessary to the proper exercise of the governin' function; hence it becomes their boundin' duty to keep her in her proper sphere by refusin' her the rite to vote."

Actuated by this noble sentiment, this vast army of men suffragists march in solid column to the polls and deposit their ballots "agin' wimmin suffrage." What a travesty of republicanism.

Now in all seriousness I would ask, Is not this a monstrous perversion of propriety, justice, yes more of common decency? The destiny of the intelligent and honorable women of Oregon in the hands of these foreign proletarians, and still meaner, native vagabonds! Is not the spectacle sufficient to cause the cheek of any decent man to blush with shame and his bosom to heave with indignation? Surely all self-respecting men—men who revere their mothers, who honor their wives and who love their sisters, will wrest the interests of these loved ones from the hands of these self-styled woman protectors, by placing them in a position such as that will be able to protect themselves.

COMMON DECENCY.

THERE IS ROOM FOR MORE.

A great many people have come to La Camas and all are doing well. We have plenty of wage earners but there is only one hotel and a store. Two thousand dollars per month is paid out for labor, and yet the hotel and store must be their doctor, druggist, milliner, clothier, barber, baker, butcher, shoemaker, blacksmith, etc., and supply all their wants. Tradespeople! can you take a hint? The town is permanent, and its future sure.

Agent La Camas Colony, La Camas, W. T.

PORTLAND, May 15th, 1884.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

A man by the name of W. F. Beebee, a practicing attorney, in his greed to make money—for money must be had in these hard times—started in on our firm to get a price this afternoon. While we were getting on smoothly and prosperously in our business he comes and levies an attachment on our store and claims $1000 for attorney fees.

This looks to us a little like blackmail, as he knows very well that he never has been employed by us at any time to do any business, as attorney or otherwise. We are not in the habit of giving our legal business to attorneys of his class. We prefer to deal with honorable men. Our attorneys are now and always have been the firms of Adams & Welch and Mallory, Dolph, Simon & Bellinger.

The Firm of Grant & Ward.

New York Evening Post.

The affairs of the firm of Grant & Ward grow more bewildering day by day. "Ten millions of liabilities and no assets and no business" appears to be the showing of the bankrupt estate. It is now stated and generally believed that the "government contracts" which the firm induced multitudes of innocent victims, male and female, to believe that they had under their control, yielding enormous profits, were altogether a myth and that they never had a government contract, great or small. The business of the concern consisted simply in taking in people's money and paying them large "profits" out of the principal as long as it lasted, and then going to smash.

NEWS NOTES.

The dress suit of the Parisian dandy is a blue coat with gilt buttons and pearl gray trousers.

In 1882 the emigrants from England to the Australasian colonies were 37,000; in 1883, 71,000.

Madame Theo has agreed to come to America next season. Her manager, Maurice Grau, is to pay her 20,000 francs per month during ten months.

Cremation is gaining favor in England. The city authorities of London have decided to establish a crematory at Ilford, a suburb of the East End.

A ladies' gambling den was raided in Paris the other day and twenty-six women discovered playing baccarat. The proprietor of the place was arrested.

The receipts of the Suez canal for January and February the present year show a total of 11,552,268 francs, an increase over the corresponding months of 1883 of 2,280,120 francs.

Singeing the hair off instead of cutting, it has become quite the thing in many places. It was discovered in France several years ago by means of a gas explosion. An elderly gentleman, who, upon alighting after having been blown into the air an unknown distance, discovered that his hair had been burned off close to his head. What was his surprise to find a few weeks later a luxuriant growth of hair where before had been scattered a few gray and faded tufts of what looked more like frost-killed bunch grass than healthy hair. Acting upon the hint afforded by the well authenticated case as to the effects of singeing of the hair, the process of singeing off the hair to give it lustre and prevent its turning gray, was adopted by a number of the more scientific tonsorial artists in Paris, from whence it spread to this country.

A tourist found a huge turkey buzzard perched on his trunk when he went down to the wharf at Vera Cruz to hunt it up. He tried to shoo it off, but it wouldn't shoo and he began looking around for a stick or stone to knock it off when one of the ship's officers tapped him on the shoulder and told him not to do it, as it would cost him a five dollar note sure. The police there will arrest a man quicker for snapping an orange seed at a buzzard than stoning a priest. These birds are the only scavengers the city has, and were it not for their faithfulness in gobbling up all kinds of putrifying matter the place would be under a constant scourage. Even the dogs will not disturb the solemn-looking, keen scented bird with the peculiar taste. When assaulted they emit a lot of the contents of their stomach, which has such a good odor that no living thing can come near it.

Coming Spring Hats.

The beginning of the spring season, it is thought, will be accentuated by the use of feathers as a conspicuous millinery trimming—ostrich feathers supplanting fancy feathers—but that the season as it advances will be mainly distinguished by the use of artificial flowers. The ribbons used will be wider than those which have had the run for the last two seasons, and plain gros grain and satin will supply the fancy textures in which the ribbons of several years have appeared. Velvet promises to have a continued run in Paris, and if much used in Paris we may expect its use with us, though on this point it were safe to await further developments. Laces, it is said, will be abundantly employed in the forthcoming millinery and there are intimations of a revival of favor for millinery ornaments, and these in many unexpected and unique designs.

A Horse for a very Little Boy.

This requires a broom handle painted a bright red or yellow. Saw out a head, let it be of a 2-inch block of wood; take a coarse file, take off the edges and make it smooth, bore a hole in the neck, insert the handle. The end should have a large brass thimble to prevent wearing the carpet. Paint the head black or brown; the ears are put on before painting; they are of leather. Bore a hole in the mouth to draw a piece of dress braid through for the reins. If you can make shallow holes in the places for the eyes, and set glass buttons in it will look better, but painting looks well. The horse may have a collar and trappings as gay as possible, with a little bell attached; the collar and bridle may be feathers stitched with gold silk. When finished it is really pretty.

UNPROTECTED GIRLS.

Fair Americans in the Matrimonial Market.

New York Herald.

Another serious defect has been discovered in our tariff. The American girl is not protected in the matrimonial market from the quite passable but cheaply produced foreign girl, and a number of America's industries languish with her. A few days ago a resident of Westchester county, finding himself in need of a wife, deliberately went down to Castle Garden to look for an acceptable mate. It did not happen to be a good day for girls, but his success has since been reported. It was to be expected, for many maidens who are comely and good enter the United States through Castle Garden, and aversion to matrimony is not among their peculiarities. Why did the suitor turn his back on his own country, where girls of every desirable variety are as numerous as politicians? We do not know, but the special advantages of the Castle Garden plan are quite evident. A proposal to a young woman "caught on the fly," arriving one day and intending on the next to take a train to her family or friends in the west, involves no preliminary expenses in the nature of bouquets, bonbons, theatre tickets, buggy rides, ice cream, and excursions, and the consequent wedding does not imply either cards or cake. Besides, to refer to a very old saying, the man who marries a Castle Garden girl does not have to hire a Castle Garden girl to take care of his wife. With all these odds against the American girl, it is strange that the tariff does not protect her. Why should foreign girls be admitted free of duty? Are they raw material? Not they! It may be urged that the tariff is for the protection of infant industries, of which the American girl is not one, but it certainly should not be hard to convince any calm and dispassionate mind that she is the direct product of one, the continuance of which is imperatively demanded for posterity's sake. In her fully completed condition—say at the age of 20 or 25 years—she embodies many times more expenditure and effort than the cheap labor products of European cradles. The foreign girl should be taken off the free list. Home industries demand it. Where is Mr. Randall?

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

FRIDAY, May 16.

The outgoing steamer carried a light freight, as wheat and flour shipments are about finished. A large quantity of wool went forward. Along the street matters are quiet to-day.

Overland receipts include 100 cs can beef, 3 cs 1 bbl candy, 66 cs can goods, 300 cs coal oil, 2 pkgs tobacco.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 1509 ctls wheat, 204 bbls flour, 26 sks potatoes, 600 lbs wool, 760 lbs hides, 57 cs eggs, 20 bxs butter. Also 5328 ctls wheat, 135 bbls flour, 101,673 lbs wool, 1377 lbs hides from the eastern auction.

EXPORTS—Per str State of California to San Francisco: 3854 ctls wheat, 360 sks flaxseed, 3508 lbs hops, 70 qr sks 375 hf sks flour, 211,548 lbs wool, 6608 sks copper ore, 1 cs cassimeres, 50 bbls corn beef, 2 bls furs, 1 bl bearskins, 8 bls deerskins, 58 bls sheepskins, 278 bdls hoops, 26 sks bones, 20,632 lbs scrap iron, 20,400 feet ash, 5300 ft maple, $25,128 treasure.

FREIGHTS—The local market is inactive, there being no inquiry for vessels. The last charter at San Francisco was at an advance of previous takings, and more business is reported in futures.

WHEAT—Foreign markets to-day are neglected and inactive. Chicago is 2 cents lower, and San Francisco is less firm. A period of extreme dullness, if not lower prices, is quite certain. The local market is in neglect. A large holding of Walla Walla is going forward to San Francisco. Receipts are quite small and represent no new business.

HIDES—Under advices the market is a shade weaker for dry selected.

WOOL—A nominal quotation for eastern Oregon is 18@20c. Absence of competition and small interest so far displayed by buyers causes inactivity. Possibly a very desirable lot would find a buyer at 18@20 cents.

EGGS—Market weak at 22½ cents.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The State of California sailed at 4:45 A. M. with 549 tons freight.

Bark C. D. Bryant, from Seabeck Jan. 18 in lumber, has arrived at Iquique in a passage of 72 days.

The Br ship Abeona is loading at Glasgow for this port. She comes to C. Caesar & Co.

Brig Selina lumber laden from Westport for S. F. passed out to-day.

Capt. Crowell left the George S. Homer at New York, turning over command to Capt. Perry. The Maritime Register of May 7 contained a readable editorial on auxiliary screw sailers. In both the Homer and Mendoza defects in boiler or machinery were found that caused a loss of several days when steam was wanted. The Walker Armington has thus far given entire satisfaction, although employed only in the West India trade. She is schooner rigged. Her passages have been very satisfactory, and she not only obtains steamer rates of freight, but being built of wood and of medium size, she is given the preference by shippers, as her cargoes are claimed to be delivered in better condition than those of larger steamers. The faults so far discovered in auxiliary sailers can easily be remedied. The amount of cargo space sacrificed and the cost of outfit and maintenance can all be lessened with late experience. In the case of the Homer it appears that the machinery should be placed in the lower hold, as its present position interferes with ballasting and makes the loss of cargo space more prominent.

The direction of the Bureau Veritas has issued the following statistics of marine disasters reported during the month of March, 1884, concerning all flags: Steamers reported lost—11 British, 1 Spanish, 2 French—total 14; in this number is included 1 steamer reported missing. Sailing vessels reported lost—4 American, 5 German, 35 British, 2 Austrian, 2 Danish, 3 French, 2 Greek, 4 Italian, 7 Norwegian, 1 Portuguese, 2 Swedish—total, 71; in this number are included 10 vessels reported missing.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

Railway Gazette: The Northern Pacific entirely fulfilled for the month of April the promise which the reports for the first two weeks indicated. Its earnings for the month were not only 116 per cent more than in April last year, but they were larger than in any other month in the history of the road. The earnings per mile were $570, against $39 last year. In previous years the earnings of this road have been much less in April than in following months. Last year the gain over April was 15 per cent, in May, 16 per cent, in June, and 28 per cent in July, etc. So great and continuous gain can hardly be expected this year, when the movement to the new placer mines made the April earnings extraordinarily large. This movement, however, did not stop after April by any means, and some increase over April earnings may be expected in the following months. But these were 60 per cent more than the March earnings, and 175 per cent more than the February earnings. For the ten months of the fiscal year ending with April, the earnings have been $10,094,003, and it does not now, in the light of the April earnings, seem sanguine to expect the other two months to bring them up above $13,000,000, which did not seem possible at the end of February.

Earnings per mile of the Northern Pacific for the month of March since 1879 have been: 1879, $169, 1880, $188; 1881, $226; 1882, $334; 1883, $337; 1884, $368.

The O. R. & N. company reports an increase of 8 per cent in gross earnings and a decrease of 4 per cent net during March.

Pipe smoking is the real test of a tobacco. It is the regal way of smoking. You get more directly at the flavor and fragrance. You take the smoke cooler, and the tonic cleanlier and safer. Pipe smoking is smoking reduced to a fine art.

The more the question of adulterated tobacco forces itself on the attention of smokers, the more desirable it becomes to know precisely what you are smoking. In Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco you have a guarantee, always, that it is Nature's own unadulterated product. Its fragrance, flavor, and unsurpassed quality, are derived from the soil and air. Try it, and you will be satisfied. None genuine without trade-mark of the Bull.

All successful Fishermen and Sportsmen smoke Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco, and they enjoy it.

OREGON HEARD FROM.

JOHN A. CHILD, Portland, Or., writes that he has sold WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY thirty-three years, and he knows it to be one of the most reliable preparations ever placed on the market for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Throat and Lung Complaints.

J. F. VENNER, Brownsville, Or., writes that several cases have recently come to his notice where he had recommended WISTAR'S BALSAM for Coughs, Colds and Throat and Lung Complaints, and in every case the parties informed him that the Balsam had helped them. One old gentleman told him that the Balsam had saved his life thirty years before.

B. F. BELT, Salem, Or., writes: "WISTAR'S BALSAM has always given entire satisfaction, and those that have used it stick to it."

None genuine unless signed "I. BUTTS" on the wrapper.

This BELT or Regenerator is made expressly for the cure of derangements of the generative organs. There is no mistake about this instrument, the continuous stream of ELECTRICITY permeating through the parts must restore them to healthy action. Do not confound this with Electric Belts advertised to cure all ills from head to toe. It is for the one specific purpose. POISON

In the blood is apt to show itself in the Spring, and nature should by all means be assisted in throwing it off. Swift's Specific does this effectively. It is a purely vegetable, non-poisonous remedy, which helps nature to force all the poison or taint out through the pores of the skin.

Mr. Robert A. Easley, of Dickson, Tenn., writes, under date March 10, 1884: "I had chills and fever, followed by rheumatism, for three years, so that I was not able to attend to my business; had tried almost every kind of medicine and found no relief. A friend recommended Swift's Specific. I tried one bottle and my health began to improve. I continued until I had taken six bottles, and it has set me on my feet, as sound and well as ever. I recommend it to all similarly afflicted."

Letters from twenty-three of the leading retail druggists of Atlanta say, under date March 6, 1884, that they sell more of Swift's Specific than any other one remedy, and three to ten times as much as any other blood medicine. We sell it to all classes, and in any of the best families use it as a general health tonic.

I am sure that Swift's Specific saved my life. I was terribly poisoned with malaria, and was given up to die. Swift's Specific relieved me promptly and entirely. I think it is the greatest remedy of the age.

G. GASPER GRIM,
Sup't. Gas Works, Rome, Ga.

I have known and used Swift's Specific for more than twenty years, and have seen more wonderful results from its use than from any remedy in or out of the Pharmacopœia. It is a certain and safe antidote to all sorts of Blood Poison.
